Legal Acts Overstepped in New Orleans.

ELEVEN MEN MOBBED IN JAIL.

Some of Them Are Shot Down in Their Cells While Others Are Taken to the Nearest Lamp Post and Strung Up Like Dogs—Some Further Particulars of the Uprising Against the Mafia.

NEW ORLEANS, March 16.—New Orleans struck the Mafia a death-blow Saturday. It rose in its might almost at midday and wrecked a terrible vengeance upon the Sicilian assassins who relentlessly slew David C. Hennessy; and though there are eleven men dead now who were happy Friday over their victory in the greatest criminal trial the city has ever witnessed, the work of blood was accomplished without unnecessary disorder, without rioting, without pillaging and without the infliction of suffering upon any innocent man, save one, and he was only slightly hurt.

Eleven people met death at the hands of a mob in broad daylight. The dead are: Joseph Macheca, Manuel Polizzi, Antonio Marchesi, Antonio Scofield, Antonio Bagnetto, Rocco Geraci, James Caruso, Loretto Comitez, Louis Trahni, Frank Romero and Rocco Monasterio.

On Wednesday night, Oct. 15, 1890, between 11 and 12 o'clock, David C. Hennessy, superintendent of police of New Orleans, was shot from ambush on Girard street, near Basin. Six wounds were made, causing his death the following forenoon.

The assassination created intense excitement in the city, and the native-born population charged it to the Mafia, an Italian or Sicilian society for assassination, which, it was charged, exists in New Orleans, New York and in other cities which have a large Italian and Sicilian population.

On Nov. 20, the grand jury returned one indictment for murder and one for shooting with intent to kill while lying in wait against each of the following: Peter Natali, Antonio Scaffidi, Antonio Bagnetto, Manuel Polizzi, Antonio Marchesi, Pietro Monasterio, Eustasio Incardona, Salvador Sunzeri, Loretto Comitez, Charles Trahina and Charles Poitza as principals, and J. P. Macheca, James Caruso, Charles Matrangola, Rocco Geraci, Charles Patorio, Frank Romero, James Carusa and Aspero Marchesi as accessories.

The grand jury investigated the case and fresh indictments were found against the prisoners. On Dec. 15 the prisoners were arraigned and on Feb. 17 the trial was begun. The district attorney announced that the state would ask for a severance of the case and would place on trial in the present issue Joseph P. Macheca, Antonio Scaffidi, Antonio Bagnetto, Manuel Polizzi, Antonio Marchesi, Aspero Marchesi, Bastion Incardona, Pietro Monasterio and Charles Matrangola, nine, leaving the other ten prisoners to be tried later.

It took two weeks to get a jury, and three panels of 120 talesmen were exhausted. Some eight days were consumed in hearing the evidence. Last Wednesday, two days before the jury trying the prisoners brought in the verdict, the grand jury indicted two private detectives for tampering with jurors. The jury brought in the verdict Friday morning, finding six of the men not guilty—Matrangola, Macheca, Incardona, Bagnetto and the two Marchesis, and returning a mis-trial in the case of the other three—Scaffidi, Polizzi and Monasterio.

A dramatic incident in the trial was the confession to the judge and attorneys for the state and for the defense of one of the accused named Politz, who during the rest of the trial was crazy with fear of the revenge of his fellow prisoners and of the Mafia.

When the verdict became known in New Orleans Friday evening there was general rejoicing in the Italian colony, and the Italian ships and junks in the port dressed in flags and showed other symbols of joy.

But on the part of the native-born citizens there was fierce indignation, not unmixed with fear, and a public call was issued for a mass meeting of citizens to take place Saturday morning and asking that the citizens come prepared to carry out what justice failed to do. The call was signed by about a hundred leading citizens.

Friday night a body of cool-headed men, lawyers, doctors, merchants and political leaders—all persons of influence and social standing—quietly met and decided that some action must be taken, and the people's justice, swift and sure, visited upon those whom the jury had neglected to punish. Saturday morning a call for a mass meeting at Clay's square, on Canal street, appeared in the papers, which editorially deprecated violence. The significant closing sentence of the call was, "Come prepared for action."

The call was answered by the populace. At 10 o'clock there was a crowd of several thousand anxious people congregated around the statue. They hardly knew what was going to happen, but they seemed ready to go to any length, and while there were of course many of the lower element in the throng, a large proportion were the leading people of the town.

There were three addresses, short and pithy, and business-like, and the assemblage, unwillingly, was soon keyed up to a high pitch and demonstrative in its denunciation of the assassins. Each of the speakers said there had been a great mass meeting months before which had met quietly and dispersed peacefully, so that the law might take its course. The law had failed. The time to act had come.

W. S. Parkerson, the leader, is a prominent lawyer here, the president of the Southern Atheistic club, and the man who led the vigorous city reform movement three years ago.

Mr. Parkerson was the first speaker. He said that once before he had appeared before the people in grand mass meeting assembled to discuss matters vital to the interest of the community; and again he faced the people of New Orleans to denounce the most infamous act consequent upon the most revolting crime in the criminal annals of any community. That was the finding of the jury in the murder trial, and that crime was as everybody knows, the foul assassination of the chief of police.

Several other incendiary speeches were made until 4,000 or 5,000 people were ready to do anything to avenge the murder of Hennessy. At the word of command, the mob started to the parish prison where the criminals were confined. Arriving at the prison but little resistance was given to the mob.

Capt. Davis, who was on guard, refused the request to open the prison, and the crowd began the work of battering in the doors. Around on Orleans street there was a heavy wooden door which had been closely barred in anticipation of the coming of the avenging mass. This the crowd selected as their best chance of getting in. Neighboring houses readily supplied axes and battering rams, and willing hands went to work to force an opening. This did not prove a difficult task to the trembling but determined throng.

Soon there was a crash, the door gave way, and in an instant armed citizens were pouring through the small opening, while a mighty shout went up from 9,000 throats in glad acclaim. There was more resistance for the intruders, however, but it, too, was soon overcome with the huge billet of wood which a stout man carried.

Only fifty, the men who had first volunteered their services, were allowed to enter, the rest being kept out without difficulty. The prisoners were found in the women's department, where they had been taken by deputies in hopes of evading the violence which was sure to follow. Upon getting sight of the mob the prisoners set up a yell for mercy. Their cries were heard throughout the division, and they made a break for the end of the yard toward the rear street under the gallery. Their object was evidently to get into the last cell, but whether any of them did or not can not be told.

Suddenly a voice said: "Give it to them," and instantly three guns and a pistol belched forth a rain of leaden bullets. Geraci, who is lame, and who was the last of the fleeing men, received one load in the back of the head, and, turning a complete somersault, fell on his face and never moved again. The Monasterio and Jim Caruso fell. The other loads were literally riddled with bullets. Romero, with a cry of anguish, crouched down on his knees with his head buried between his knees. He was shot in that attitude. He was the only one who had his hat on, and, notwithstanding that it was riddled with bullets, it never left his head. His black Prince Albert coat was torn to shreds by the bullets.

Politz, the crazy man, was locked up in a cell up stairs. The doors were flung open, and one of the avengers, taking aim, shot him through the body. He was not killed outright, and, in order to satisfy the people on the outside, who were crazy to know what was going on within, he was dragged down the stairs and through the doorway by which the crowd had entered. Half carried, half dragged, he was taken to the corner. A rope was provided and tied around his neck and the people pulled him to the cross-bars. Not satisfied that he was dead, a score of men took aim and poured a volley of shot into his body, and for several hours the body was left dangling in the air.

Bagnetto was caught in the first rush up stairs, and the first volley of bullets pierced his brain. He was pulled out by a number of stalwart men through the main entrance to the prison, and from the limb of a tree his body was suspended, although life was already gone.

Just as soon as the bloody work was done Mr. Parkerson addressed the crowd and asked them to disperse. This they consented to do, with a ringing shout, but first they made a rush for Parkerson, and lifting him bodily supported him on their shoulders while they marched up the street. The avengers came back in a body to the Clay statue and then departed.

WAR WITH ITALY.

She Will Make a Demand on the United States Government for Redress.

NEW ORLEANS, March 16.—It is claimed by Signor Corte, the Italian consul here, that three of the men killed Saturday are Italian subjects, and he has therefore laid the matter before the minister at Washington, who will make a demand on the United States for redress. There has already been a correspondence between Blaine and the Italian minister in regard to this very case on the statement that the Italian prisoners were being badly treated in the parish prison. The men claimed as Italian subjects are Trahni, Maichise and Monasterio.

On the other hand it is asserted by the supervisor of registration that all three of these men and all the eleven murdered men have been naturalized, were registered and voted in the last election. Sunzeri and Natale, two of the prisoners who are acknowledged to be Italian subjects, escaped killing almost by a miracle. It is thought here that the citizenship of the men who were killed may prove a matter of some importance diplomatically.

ITALY AROUSED.

That Government Thirsts for Reprisals in Some Form.

LONDON, March 16.—A dispatch from Rome says the news of the massacre of Italian prisoners in New Orleans did not become generally known in that city till Sunday morning. It created a profound sensation and cables have been passing between the cabinet and Italian minister at Washington. The general feeling is one of the utmost indignation, and thirst for reprisals in some form. An English visitor, who was mistaken for an American, had a narrow escape from being robbed. It is expected that the subject will be brought up in the chamber of deputies. In the talk on the streets and in public places strong protests were uttered against any representation of Italy at the coming American exhibition.

Count Rasponi, of the Italian legation in Paris, expressed himself yesterday in very strong terms on what he called the cruel massacre of his countrymen. He said Italy could not afford to let such an outrage on humanity go without redress, and that it was a stain on the American people that could never be effaced. He added that in his own personal opinion it ended all prospect of Italy taking part in the Chicago exhibition. The count was very excited. He also said that he had no doubt that if the men had been guilty they would have been convicted, as the jury would not have dared to acquit them.

Among Italian residents in London there is much excitement on the subject, and the slaughter is fiercely denounced. There is some talk of a mass meeting of Italians in this city to protest against the course of American authorities in permitting such a crime, and to request King Humbert to demand redress.

INDIGNATION MEETING IN CHICAGO

Two Thousand Italians Send a Protest to Secretary Blaine.

CHICAGO, March 16.—Two thousand Italians assembled at Uhlrich's hall yesterday evening to protest against the massacre of their countrymen in New Orleans. Dr. C. Volini was elected as the president of the meeting and in an impassioned speech told of the wrong done at New Orleans. "Our innocent countrymen," he said, "were brutally slain by a mob of assassins, in a manner that barbarians would call unjust and famous. We are now here to ask the United States government for reparation in the name of civilization and justice. If we fail to receive it we will appeal to the Italian government and it will let its voice, or the voice of its guns be heard."

Speeches in a similar strain were delivered by Stefano Malde, editor of L'America, L. Almajira, a former lieutenant in the Italian army, Charles Trioli and others.

Cesar Duranti, editor of L'Italia, was authorized to send the following telegram to Secretary Blaine:

To James G. Blaine, Secretary of State, Washington, D. C.:

Italians by birth, Americans by choice, assembled in a mass meeting, earnestly protest against the cowardly and lawless acts of the New Orleans mob helped by the tacit consent of the local authorities, and ask the Federal government for satisfaction or reparation by severely punishing the leaders in the infraction of American laws, the rights of citizens and the duties of hospitality.

After reading the message Signor Duranti said: "If justice be not given us, if reparation be not had, I, who induced hundreds of you to become American citizens, will be the first to tear up my naturalization papers."

This threat was received with a storm of bravos.

After adopting a resolution protesting against the infamous outrage perpetrated on eleven of their countrymen and appealing to the Italian and the United States governments to see that reparation be made, the meeting dispersed with hearty cheers for America and Italy.

At noon to-day an extra edition of L'Italia will be issued and editorial comment of a vigorous character will be made on the deeds of the mob, the alleged Mafia conspiracy and the slanders heaped on the Italian race in America.

Oscar Duranti, the editor of L'Italia, the leading Italian newspaper of Chicago, after denying that Chicago Italians contributed a cent to the defense of the prisoners charged with the murder of Chief of Police Hennessy, at New Orleans, says: "The fact that they have been lynched after being acquitted by the jury is an outrage. It is worthy of the barbarous nation earth. If the mob is the jury why did it not murder those prisoners before the farce of a trial was gone through with?"

"The statement that there is a secret society, the Mafia, organized to commit murder among my countrymen is a lie. I believe I represent the feeling of the majority of my countrymen in Chicago and the nation when I denounce the published statements about the Mafia as false throughout."

AT WASHINGTON.

The Lynching Already Brought Before the President.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The lynching of Italians in New Orleans Saturday has already been brought to the attention of the president and Secretary Blaine, but just what further steps, if any, will be taken by the president beyond the mere disapproval of mob violence, as evidenced by the tone of Secretary Blaine's dispatch to Governor Nichols cannot be ascertained. Neither Secretary Blaine nor Baron Fava, the Italian minister, could be found at their homes last night and at the Italian legation absolute reticence on the subject was preserved.

Among congressmen and diplomats who have given such matters some attention, it is not thought that the massacre of the several Italian subjects can become a matter for international consideration, or complication between Italy and the United States. The men, it is said, were not murdered as Italians and the only reparation that can be obtained, is possibly, damages by the wives or relatives of the dead Italian subjects from the municipal government of New Orleans for protecting the persons of individuals—aliens—who at the time they met their death, were temporarily at least in the custody of the municipal authorities of that city.

Great fear is felt here by former residents of New Orleans, now in Washington, that the race troubles are not at an end there yet, and it is freely predicted that at the first overt action on the part of Sicilians the Italian quarter will be sacked. The police hate the Italians, and would be of no use in suppressing an outbreak against them. The Italians, and all that strange mass of people from foreign Mediterranean seaports, which is so large an element of the foreign quarter of New Orleans who are commonly called "dagoes," are all armed, and will fight like wild cats with that strange fury that upon occasion characterized mobs of the Latin race, mad with fury and fright.

It will be an awful fight if it does come. The meddling of the Italian consul and his threats, have greatly embittered the sentiment against the whole race. The Italian priests are peace makers, but are powerless. The next fortnight is full of peril. Mayor Shakespeare, his secretary and six councilmen, they say, are marked for the stiletto or bullet.

Excitement in Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, March 16.—Jerome Fidei, Italian vice consul here, said yesterday: "The lynching in New Orleans will cause trouble, I am afraid, between Italy and this government. Do the people of America think the indiscriminate killing of our people adjudged innocent by an American jury right? What would they think of the bombardment of a defenseless town by our navy, which, you will admit, is in good condition?"

The city market here is run by Italians and they are feverish with excitement. In the Italian quarters where there is a population of about 2,500 Italians. Groups of men were seen standing about the streets yesterday, having the newspapers translated and read to them.

W. A. Pinkerton's Views on the Subject.

CHICAGO, March 16.—William A. Pinkerton was actively engaged in the work of prosecuting Hennessy's slayers and says the outbreak and lynching was what he expected. Two weeks ago Mr. Pinkerton was in New Orleans, and he received assurance from over one hundred of the most prominent citizens that if the cowardly murder was left unavenged by the jury the Italians would surely meet their fate at the hands of the angry populace.

Mr. Pinkerton was present during the impaneling of the jury and asserts that 150 of the talesmen summoned as jurors were in the power of O'Malley, and men who would not stop at anything to release the prisoners. The prosecution was aware of this at the commencement of the trial, but was powerless. Mr. Pinkerton would not say how many of O'Malley's friends succeeds in getting on the jury.

A BANQUET INTERFERED WITH.

King Humbert's Birthday Celebration Turned Into an Indignation Meeting.

CHICAGO, March 16.—The news from New Orleans Saturday aroused a store of indignation among the Italian colony in Chicago and transformed a banquet into an indignation meeting.

King Humbert's forty-seventh birthday was to be celebrated with a banquet Saturday night at the Palace hotel on North La Salle street. The leading members of the Chicago colony, with their families, assembled at the appointed hour but the banquet was not held. They were too indignant to sit down quietly and enjoy a National holiday when they believed that there National honor had been so grossly attacked.

Dr. Volpini, the well known Italian physician and an eloquent speaker, delivered a most forcible address in his native tongue. Among other things he said: "We must have satisfaction for the wanton assassinations of inoffensive Italian citizens in one of the chief cities of the American republic. We demand that a strict investigation be made into the lack of proper police protection of our countrymen, not only in New Orleans, but in other cities of the United States. The unprovoked abuse now carried on by a large portion of the American press against a laborious and inoffending class of our citizens should also be promptly discouraged."

After several other speeches had been delivered it was resolved to send the following cablegram to the Italian minister of foreign affairs at Rome:

CHICAGO, March 14, 1891.
Marquis Di Rudini, royal minister of foreign affairs, Rome, Italy.

The Italian united for celebrating his majesty's birthday suspend banquet on account of news received concerning massacre of our brothers in New Orleans, and invoke the energetic intervention and protection of the home government.

The meeting adjourned after issuing a call for a mass meeting of Italian citizens to be held Sunday evening to protest against the massacre of their countrymen in New Orleans.

OFFICIAL TELEGRAM.

Secretary Blaine Sends a Message to the Governor of Louisiana.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Baron Fava, the Italian minister yesterday formally brought to the president the slaughter of Sicilian prisoners, in the parish jail at New Orleans Saturday. As a result Secretary Blaine, sent the following dispatch to Governor Nichols yesterday evening:

It has been presented to the president, by the minister of Italy, accredited to this government, that among the victims of the deplorable massacre which took place in the city of New Orleans, were three or more subjects of the King of Italy. Our treaty with that friendly government, which under the constitution is the supreme law of the land, guarantees to the Italian subjects, domiciled in the United States, the most constant protection and security for their persons and property, making them amenable on the same basis as our own citizens to the laws of the United States, and of the several states, in their due and orderly administration.

"The president deeply regrets that the citizens of New Orleans should have so disparaged the purity and adequacy of their own judicial tribunals as to transfer to the passionate judgment of a mob, a question that should have been

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

MONDAY, MARCH 16, 1891.

"WHEN I raise corn, I want to exchange where I can get the most coats, overcoats, underclothes, dress goods and socks," says Jerry Simpson, the farmer Congressman from Kansas. And, "Uncle Jerry" is about right.

At Newport Saturday Philip Metch, a dairyman, was fined $100 for pulling out the tongue of one of his horses. That's the full penalty provided by the law, but such a horrible crime deserves a more severe punishment.

An effort will be made, we understand, to instruct this county for Hon. C. M. Clay, Jr., for Governor. He has some warm friends here, but Hon. John Young Brown is undoubtedly first choice, with Hardin a good second, from what the BULLETIN has heard.

The New Albany Tribune, Republican, says "there are hundreds of Republicans in these southern counties of Indiana, who never saw a Republican paper." Whereupon, an esteemed contemporary, the Columbus Herald, adds, "That's why they are Republicans."

An exchange says, "street drunkenness has ceased to be popular with Shelbyville tipplers, on account of the activity of the Police Judge."

If the peace officers display the right sort of "activity" they can make "street drunkenness" unpopular in any town.

THE BULLETIN is under many obligations to Mr. James H. Hall for favors received Saturday. He is still at New Orleans and his telegram Saturday afternoon to the BULLETIN was the first news that reached this city of the terrible vengeance the indignant citizens of the Crescent City had taken upon the assassins of Chief of Police Hennessy. The details are given elsewhere.

What "Free Coinage" Is.

As to the meaning of the phrase "free silver," we cannot do better than to quote from Mr. Laughlin's History of Bimetallism in the United States, page 22:

"Free coinage, by which is meant the right of any private person to have bullion coined at the legal rates. If the Government reserves to itself this right, there would not be free coinage. Free coinage, however, is to be distinguished from the absence in the act of 'seigniorage.' Seigniorage is a charge exacted from persons for coining their bullion into coin at the mint.

If you can take a pound of silver to the mint and get a pound of silver dollars, whether with or without a slight deduction for the cost of minting, you have "free coinage."—National Democrat.

EVERY one in the South interested in or knowing of the proposed starting of any new manufacturing enterprise, whether large or small, or of the extensions of factories or mines, now in operation, or the erection of large buildings, would benefit himself, as well as the South generally, by sending particulars to the Manufacturers' Record of Baltimore. That paper has for years made a business of reporting every new manufacturing concern from a cotton gin to a furnace, every new mining company and every bank started anywhere in the South. This information is read by thousands of people all over the United States, and is often republished by hundreds of other papers that look to the Manufacturers' Record for information about this section. The result is that every new enterprise, and the town in which it is located, are widely advertised without cost, and great good often results. In this way the wants of Southern manufacturers who wish to buy machinery are made public, and catalogues of all machinery in their line, with prices, &c., are received, and they are thus enabled to select the best machinery at the lowest cost. The Manufacturers' Record invites all information of this character, and everybody in the South should take an interest in seeing that that journal receives the earliest notices that can possibly be given of such new enterprises, or the enlargement of those now in operation.

The books of the Limestone are still open for subscription to stock in the new series. Call on any of the directors or the Secretary H. C. Sharp, or the Treasurer J. E. Threlkeld at First National Bank, and secure stock that will pay you a handsome dividend, or will afford you an opportunity of buying a home at a low rate of interest.

Farmers, Be on Your Guard.

Gangs of swindlers are going about the State fleecing unsuspecting farmers by offering to paint the roofs of buildings for $5. When the work is finished a bill is presented for $5 for the work and for forty gallons of paint at $1.50 per gallon, making $65 in all.—Bourbon News.

Curious Freaks of Steel.

"The finest grades of razors are so delicate that even the famous Damascus sword blades cannot equal them in texture," says an exchange. "It is not generally known that the grain of a Swedish razor is so sensitive that its general direction is changed after a short service. When you buy a fine razor the grain runs from the upper end of the outer point in a diagonal direction towards the handle. Constant strapping will twist the steel until the grain appears to be straight up and down. Subsequent use will drag the grain outward from the edge, so that after steady use for several months the fibre of the steel occupies a position exactly the reverse of that which it did on the day of purchase. The process also affects the temper of the blade, and when the grain sets from the lower outer point toward the back, you have a razor which cannot be kept in condition, even by the most conscientious barber. But here's another curious freak that will take place in the same tool: Leave the razor alone for a month or two, and when you take it up you will find that the grain has assumed its first position. The operation can be repeated until the steel is worn through to the back."

Attorney's Lien.

In the case of Bradford versus Ware's executor, taken up from Bracken, the Superior Court says: "An attorney has a lien only upon the amount to which his client is entitled upon the termination of the litigation. And if, upon a settlement of the different liabilities incurred by the parties the one to the other during the litigation the client is entitled to nothing the attorney has no lien which he can enforce against the adverse party."

"Where an appeal granted to the defendant was dismissed with damages because of his failure to file the transcript on time, but upon a subsequent appeal granted by the clerk of this court the judgment was reversed with directions to dismiss the petition, which was done, the defendant is entitled to have his final judgment for costs set off against plaintiff's judgment for damages upon the dismissal of the first appeal, and the plaintiff's attorney can not complain that he is thereby deprived of his lien."

How An Electric Car is Moved.

The dynamo which generates the current does so by the revolution of a coil of wire near the poles of a magnet, the force which revolves the coil being derived from the engine. The current then passes over the wires, down the trolley which surmounts each car, to a small motor. The motor has an armature consisting of coils of wire, traversed by an electrical current, which is attracted in succession to the poles of the stationary coils called the field magnets, through which the current also flows, flies around and transmits its motion, by means of cog-wheels, to the axle of the car.—Philadelphia Record.

IN THEIR OWN HANDS.

adjudged dispassionately and by settled rules of law. The government of the United States must give to the subjects of friendly powers that security which it demands for its own citizens when temporarily under a foreign jurisdiction.

"It is the hope of the president that you will co-operate with him in maintaining the obligations of the United States toward the Italian subjects who may be within the perils of the present excitement, that further bloodshed and violence may be prevented and that all offenders against the law may be promptly brought to justice."

IN NEW YORK.

Excitement Intense and an Indignation Meeting Called.

NEW YORK, March 16.—L' Eco D'Italia, one of the representative Italian newspapers in this city, issued an extra edition at 11 o'clock yesterday. The story of the wholesale killing was told briefly, and was followed with the following editorial and appeal: "Without words we want satisfaction in full and complete. If the minister at Washington has not at this hour made his word good 1,000,000 of Italians residing in the United States will know how to do it. If the massacre that we have witnessed in this free republic is allowed to go unpunished we will denounce it as assassination. Our word is quickly pledged. We never repent, vendetta." The newspaper invites to a mass meeting whoever has a heart that beats in his bosom.

The article continues: "In this moment of persecution, through malignity and wrath and hate, we ought to remember that we are all Italians, and as such, we invite El Progresso and El Colombo to unite with us at the grand mass meeting. Colleagues, be quick to join hands, as we are ready and always with you. In this supreme hour of our vindication let us be united in the name of God. Death to the assassins. Death to those that allowed such a butchery." Although L'Eco D'Italia announces the meeting for Tuesday night, this announcement was made yesterday morning, and the excitement grew so intense during the day that it was decided to hold the meeting as soon as possible, and it will be held to-night.

Late last night a number of prominent Italians forwarded telegrams to the Italian ambassador at Washington, calling his attention to the murder at New Orleans, and demanding that he take the proper steps in the matter and give to it the recognition its importance deserves.

Just Cause for Indignation.

NEW ORLEANS, March 16.—One of the chief causes of public indignation in connection with the Mafia trial has been the belief that the society depended on bribery to secure the release of the accused. It has been asserted that $75,000 to $100,000 was contributed by Italians all over the country to be used as a corruption fund. Thousands of dollars, it was said, came from Chicago, New York and other cities where the Italians are congregated in large numbers. It is certain that the poor Italian laborers in this vicinity were taxed $2 a piece as a contribution to the defense fund, and that there was no lack of money in the treasury.

Protection Asked But None Given.

NEW ORLEANS, March 16.—Mr. Pasquale Corte, the Italian consul in this city, states that he called on the mayor of New Orleans and governor of Louisiana and asked for protection for the Italian subjects among the prisoners. None was given by either official. He immediately communicated with the Italian minister in Washington and also with the home government at Rome. Four of the eleven are Italian subjects—viz: Monasteria, Marchesi, Comitè and Trahina. The others are either of American birth or naturalized.

Full Satisfaction Will Be Given.

ROME, March 16.—The Italian government has sent instructions by cable to the minister at Washington, Baron De Fava, to protest vehemently against the murder of Italians in the prison at New Orleans, on Saturday last. Baron Fava has cabled in reply that he had presented the protest to the government of the United States and received in reply that full satisfaction would be given.

DEAD FOR TWO WEEKS.

Horrible Discovery Made in a Hotel at Albany, New York.

ALBANY, March 16.—A horrible discovery was made at the Dunlap house yesterday, a man being found dead after having laid for days. On Feb. 26 a man called at the hotel and registering himself as Robert W. Davis, of Karners, paid for a room and was assigned to one on the third floor. He went to his room and from that time on the hotel people seem to have lost all interest in his movements.

He was not seen again, nor does it appear that there was any inquiry as to whether his room was tenanted or not, until yesterday, when a horrible stench penetrating through the hallway attracted attention and indicated something was wrong in the room. The door was found to be locked, and on its being burst open, Davis' body was discovered upon the bed badly decomposed. He had evidently been dead from the night he took the room and retired, two weeks ago. The deceased was apparently 50 years old, and from letters found in his pocket it was inferred that he came down from Karners to meet a daughter, who lives in Onondaga county. It is probable that he blew out the gas and was asphyxiated.

Labor Leaders Acquitted.

SCOTSDALE, Pa., March 16.—The cases against Alex. Fisher and Lawrence Kline, charged with riot and assault on Pitt Boss Thomas Louden and Mike Bell, at the Paul works of W. J. Rainey on Feb. 25, were tried Saturday. The men were both acquitted, but were required to pay the costs.

The Japan Mission.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 16.—A petition has been signed by every member of the senate and assembly asking President Harrison to appoint Speaker Frank L. Coombs to the Japanese mission made vacant by the death of John F. Swift.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Signal Office's Latest Weather Crop Bulletin.

THE SEASON GREATLY RETARDED

Recent Storms Have a Damaging Effect on Certain Crops—Presidential Pardons—The President's Trip to California Arranged—Other National Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The weather crop bulletin issued by the signal office for the week ending March 13 says: Generally throughout the regions east of the Rocky mountains the season is retarded, notwithstanding the fact that the thermal conditions over this region are generally in excess.

The recent storms which have passed over the central valleys, have been attended by freezing weather in that region, but as the growing season has not opened, it is probable that the low temperature reported caused no marked injury to the growing crops, although in the west gulf, where fruit trees are in bloom, the severe freeze during the present week has caused some damage.

There is an excess of moisture generally throughout the cotton and tobacco regions and over the greater portion of the fall and spring wheat regions; there is also an excess of moisture generally throughout California and Oregon, due largely to recent rains, which followed what threatened to be a serious drought in that region.

Presidential Pardons.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The president has pardoned Herbert Littlejohn, of South Carolina, convicted of violations of the internal revenue laws, and J. W. Gregory, of Pennsylvania, convicted of breaking into a postoffice. He has also granted the remission of the forfeited recognizance of Maria Flood of the District of Columbia.

In the case of John A. Powell, of Utah, convicted of adultery, the president has commuted his sentence of one year's imprisonment to six months imprisonment.

In the case of Charles W. Ingraham, of California, sentenced to eighteen months' imprisonment for violations of the postal laws, the president has granted him a pardon to take effect May 13, 1891.

He has remitted the fine of $571 imposed on John Emmel, Jr., of Baltimore, Md., sentenced to six months imprisonment and to pay a fine of $591 for violations of the postal laws.

In the case of John W. Brown, of Carolina, sentenced to three years imprisonment for violations of the postal laws, the president has commuted the sentence to two years actual imprisonment.

The President's Trip to California.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The president stated yesterday that he contemplated leaving on his California trip between the 5th and 10th of April. Mrs. Harrison will accompany him. He will be absent from Washington about six weeks. He will go by way of Atlanta, and stop one day each at Atlanta and New Orleans, and possibly make short stops at other points. From New Orleans he will go to California by way of the Southern Pacific railroad.

Two Vessels Ashore.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The signal corps observer at Gay Head, Mass., reports that the United States vessels, Nina and Galena, ashore at this point, are now away upon the beach. The Nina will probably be saved, but the Galena will be a total wreck. It is impossible for the wreckers to do anything on account of the northwest gale and high sea that now prevails. No lives lost.

Not Heard of It in Washington.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The state department is still ignorant, officially and otherwise, of any information concerning the reported assassination of the president of Chile. Assistant Secretary Wharton said yesterday that he was certain the department would have been notified if such an event had occurred. It is possible, however, that a strict telegraphic censorship may have been established.

Land Commissioner Resigns.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Commissioner Groff, of the general land office, has tendered his resignation, but it has not yet been accepted by the president. The commissioner says there is no truth whatever in the published report that a serious controversy between himself and Secretary Noble led to his resignation. His sole reason for resigning, he says, is failing health.

To Study German Military Tactics.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—At the request of the German government, Lieut. P. H. Clark, of the Eighth cavalry has been directed to proceed to Germany and attach himself to the Second Westphalian hussars No. 11, for the purpose of studying German cavalry tactics.

BLOODY TRAGEDY.

Shotgun and Revolver Figure as the Weapons of Death.

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 16.—Three men lost their lives in a bloody quarrel near Maxey, Thursday evening, the particulars of which has just been received. Harvey Smith, a young planter, had among his employes a negro named Boyd Hatton, whom he had to discharge. While Hatton was preparing to leave Thursday night, Smith went down to his cabin to settle with him. Hatton met his approach with a discharge from a shotgun. Smith drew a revolver and shot Hatton in the shoulder.

The appearance of Bill Hatton to help his brother, made it two to one. The next shot from Smith struck Bill in the heart, and the next after that struck Boyd in the abdomen. Smith then fell in a swoon from his own wounds. Boyd Hatton crawled over to where Smith lay, took the revolver and killed him. He died soon after from his own wounds.

OSWEGO, N. Y., March 16.—The New York Central has taken possession of the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg railroad under a perpetual lease.
